

SPAVINAW SUIT MAY REACT ON MR. BRADY

City Officials Consider Damage Suit for Collecting Excess Cost to Result From Long Delay.

TATE'S CROWD IS BLAMED

Rise in Prices of Materials for Spavinaw Project Expected Before Work Starts.

The suit of Tate Brady, Hank Lewis, Cheeto Holland and other local politicians, that is delaying the Spavinaw irrigation project by drinking water, has possibility of reaction if it was learned yesterday. Possibilities of suit against the investigators of the injunction are developing and the city is likely to demand damages for the increase in the final cost of the Spavinaw project and the amount it would have cost had not those reactionaries tied up the work through their suit.

Material prices are liable to be much higher next year, which is the earliest time the suit will be settled. It is expected that the injunction will hold but it serves the intended purpose of delaying the proceedings.

Same Old Crowd.

It is common knowledge that Tate Brady and his associates and the Page interests are not in love with the present administration, which set a precedent not followed by preceding democratic administrations, in refusing to take dictation from Page, Brady and others. It is general impression about the city that the injunction suit was brought for the mere purpose of delaying the awarding of contracts until the Brady and Page demagogues have an opportunity at the next election of putting a set of offices in the city hall that can be controlled.

In the meantime, material prices are mounting and the added cost when the injunction is finally dissolved, will be considerable. The taxpayers will have to bear this expense because of waste of money and play. The possibility of making Brady pay for this added cost to a suit for damages is receiving considerable consideration.

The Water Curse.

Through Mr. Brady's efforts Tulsa babies will drink poisoned well water and impure bottle-water for several months longer. It has been demonstrated that the impure water of the present supply costs Tulsa about $1,000,000 a year in indirect taxes and thus Mr. Brady's suit is costing Tulsa $60,000, provided the suit is settled by the first of the year.

SPAVINAW ELECTION FIGHT TAKEN TO DISTRICT COURT

Bud Nelson, arrested Monday on a bench warrant in Justice H. J. Gray's court, was released Tuesday on his own recognizance and in the event of a trial, which the petitioners declared he had been illegally held since his case before the justice court had been appealed to the district court and an appeal bond had been made.

Justice Gray fined Nelson $25 and costs on two assault and battery charges preferred by J. C. Hickmott, as the result of a fight at the Washington school building place July 19. Justice refused to allow Nelson to appear from the fine on the grounds that the defendant pleaded guilty to the charges, and that the fine was less than the maximum allowed by state law. After the refusal of the justice to grant an appeal, Nelson took the matter before Judge Owen Owen of district court, made bond for an appeal of the case and remained in jail. Similar action was taken on the petition to pave 14th street in the intersection with Katy street.

Another "Last Chance" for Bottled Water Men to Come Up to Standard

Tests taken last week showed improvement in all bottled water in Tulsa except two companies. A final test will be made this week and the two companies whose product is polluted will be ruled off the market if they do not clean up.

Most of the difficulty, Mayor Hubbard said, comes from improved water works in the parks and bottling. The city chemist, W. R. Holway, has offered to instruct the bottle water men in the proper sanitary precautions and chemical treatment necessary to keep the water pure.

CITY-COMMISSION HEARS MANY PAVING PETITIONS

Several petitions for paving were received at the meeting of the city commission yesterday and recommendations of the city engineer on petitions approved and ordered advertised for bids. Petition for paving Easton avenue from the east line of Madeline to the west line of Pearl was rejected for the present because this strip would connect with no paving. Petition for paving out to this strip has been approved and as soon as this work is under way, the Easton petition will be given another hearing.

Petition for paving Quincy from the south line of Teath to the north line of Fifteenth was referred to the city engineer. Similar action was taken on the petition to pave 14th street in the intersection with Katy street.

NEGRESS DENIES ANY KNOWLEDGE OF CRIME

County Officers Claim Proof of Murder of Edwards Woman—Charge Mattie Rice Who Denies Guilt.

Denying she fired the shot which proved fatal to Mrs. Emma Edwards, the negro woman bound in a dying condition at her home at Bascom and Elgin avenues early Monday morning, Marin Rose, a negro, refused to add anything to do with the affair when seen at the county jail Tuesday morning.

Negro deputy sheriff who made the arrest charged the defendant, whom charges will be filed Wednesday morning, has been unable to obtain an admission of guilt. The defendant admitted having had a quarrel with the deceased on Saturday night over the possession of a pile of Army surplus clothing that she was in the house at the time of the shooting. Four other officers, however, claim they have proof that the defendant, after she quarreled Sunday evening with the Edwards woman, went to the station to buy a gun. The Edwards woman died at a local hospital at noon Tuesday.

THEFT OF CAR IN KANSAS IS PUNISHABLE IN TULSA

Charged with the larceny of an automobile from Montgomery county, Kansas, Alison Ivey, alias Rock Lee, entered a plea of not guilty before the district court Tuesday afternoon and was committed to jail under bond of $5,000 for trial. C. C. Cook, charged jointly with Ivey with the theft of the car, will be brought before the court on habeas corpus petition next Monday for hearing.

Ivey and Cook were arrested on a fugitive warrant from Montgomery county, but since the Oklahoma law makes uninterrupted possession of stolen property a felony, the charges were filed against the men in the Tulsa county courts. By court order, two men who were security on a bond of $1,000 made by Ivey for release on another felony charge pending trial were released from their obligation and the defendant also committed on this charge.

Postoffice-Grocery Store Is Still in Disfavor Here

According to E. E. Mccline, assistant superintendent of the local post office, no one has ever been removed from the postoffice department to charge first zone rates on army food stuffs. At the present rate all of the advantage in buying from the army's food supply goes to the man living within a few miles of the army surplus office at St. Louis. About three fourths of the country is more than 500 miles from any army post office which is handling army food. The average cost to freight the reduced cost of buying through the postoffice.

CONVICT LABOR WANTED BY COUNTY FOR ROAD GRADING

Convict labor for grading the state highway between Bascom Springs and Kennesaw may be asked by the board of Tulsa county commissioners, plans for the use of county prisoners for the use of county prisoners not having proven successful to the present time. Commissioner James Wooten and Thomas L. Monroe, county attorney, asked the county commissioners for an order compelling county prisoners to work on the road, but this plan was never carried out, although the commissioners gave their consent to the project and offered the service of a county truck for the transportation of the prisoners to and from work. Now the commissioners are taking steps to secure state convict labor for this purpose.
